1.

Girl Wow! That actor is awesome!

Boy Yeah, this is a great play.

Man Excuse me, can you sit down, please?

Boy Tina, sit down. The other people can't see.

Girl Oh, sorry.

2.

A: Two tickets, please.

B: We have a special offer. $30 for visits to both this museum and Fenwick Castle.

A: Where's that?

B: On the other side of the city, near Fenwick Park.

A: No, we don't have time for that today. We just want to see the paintings from South American artists.

3.

A: So, what do you think, Mike?

B: This is really awesome.

A: Yep. The Bears are a great team.

B: Do you want to go for coffee after the game?

A: No, I need to get home early.

B: OK.

4.

A: Come on, let's go for coffee. I'm tired.

B: But there's more to see.

A: I know but we have time.

B: What about the kids?

A: Let them walk around and look at the fish for a while. It isn't dangerous in here.

Waiter What would you like to order?

Man Sandra?

Woman I'd like a cheese and cucumber sandwich, please.

Waiter A sandwich for you, too?

Man No. I'd like three tacos.

Waiter Very well, sir.

Man And I also want some fries.

Waiter What would you like to drink?

Man Some pineapple juice, please.

Woman Just some water for me.

Waiter Great. Anything for dessert?

Man Not for me. I'm on a diet. Sandra?

Woman I'd like some ice cream.

Waiter The vanilla ice cream is very nice.

Woman No, my favorite is banana.

Waiter OK, then. Is that all?

Man I'd like to try some vanilla ice cream with some carrot cake.

Woman Alan! What about your diet?

Man OK, OK. I don't want any dessert, thank you.

Waiter Would you like your drinks now, or would you...

Kelly

Oh, a lot. I get up early in the morning so I need two cups, at least. Then I have another cup at about eleven, and I also have a cup after lunch, too.

Debbie

I don't eat a lot. You see, I don't really like them. My roommate often makes some, but I like cake, especially chocolate cake.

Robert

I usually drink three or four bottles. I exercise every day and I get very thirsty, you see.

Simon

I don't really know. Umm... We don't have them in the house. But I sometimes buy a bag to have for lunch at work, with my sandwich and fruit.

1.

A: Hey Ian. What's that? Cereal?

B: Yeah, I'm hungry.

A: People usually eat cereal for breakfast, you know.

B: Not me. I like it in the evening.

A: What do you have for breakfast? An omelet?

B: No, I just have a cup of coffee and some toast.

A: That's why you're hungry all day.

B: Maybe.

2.

A: What's up, Kelly?

B: Hey, I know a great restaurant on 10th Avenue. I go there every Friday night and they have amazing goulash. Do you want to come?

A: Goulash? What's that?

B: It's a meat and vegetable soup, with lots of paprika.

A: No, I don't like Mexican food.

B: It's not Mexican. It's Hungarian.

A: No thanks. I like Italian food. I can eat pizza or pasta every day of the week.

B: Suit yourself.
